BY OCHRE

COLLECTION DESCRIPTION

Contemporary

Three concentric tiers of woven metallic fabric over stretched silk, with base diffuser. Made in collaboration with textile designer Anne Corbiere.

Anne Corbiere's background is rooted in luxury textiles. Her first love was sewing and needlework, which led her through theater costumes into the world of Parisian haute couture. She went on to collaborate with some of the most prestigious houses, including Christian Lacroix, Dior, Chanel, and Balenciaga. Today, she continues to create bespoke fabrics, pillow panels, and fringe for interiors — all handwoven, with each project customized in width, minimums, and pricing.

Her collections reflect a passion for textiles, color, and texture, often realized in collaboration with spinners and weavers worldwide. Based in Anjou, France, she also works with her husband Vincent, creating pieces that merge textile craft with fine art.
