

KATIE TABLE LAMP

BY BRENT WARR

COLLECTION DESCRIPTION

Contemporary
United States

A more petite version of the Rachel, the Katie Table Lamp exudes a versatile style that is both artisanal and playful. The light is diffused evenly across the sanded plaster, left raw to allow the light to highlight its natural imperfections. This process reveals shadows and an intriguing color play from the bulb in the shade and separate bulb in the base of the lamp. This table lamp features a base and shade made of cast plaster with attached plaster sculpted semi-spheres. Available in either stark white or custom colors.
