PODIO

BY BAROVIER&TOSO

COLLECTION DESCRIPTION

Podio unfolds as a family of vases in varying proportions, designed to generate sequences and relationships within space. Each element consists of a vase and a lid. The lid both guides the inclination of the flower and serves as a display plane, expanding the compositional possibilities. The modular system encourages aggregation and stacking, forming configurations that resemble small architectures. The vases are mouth-blown and crafted using the corteccia technique, the same employed in the lighting diffusers, which generates lenses and dynamic reflections. The surface comes alive with shifting plays of light that heighten its relationship with the surrounding space. Light diffuses through the material, imparting depth and movement. Each piece retains its own autonomy while finding completion in relation to the others. Podio maintains a measured balance between formal rigor and compositional freedom, allowing the flower to remain the true protagonist.
