POSIDONIA

BY BAROVIER&TOSO

COLLECTION DESCRIPTION

The Posidonia vase embodies the sinuous movement of marine algae, capturing the fluid beauty of the underwater world. Its creation is an art that begins with the "drawing of the rods," which are elongated and arranged on a grooved support. A first layer of glass, shaped into a cylinder, is rolled over the bronzino, gathering the rods. Layer by layer, the vase takes form, evoking the depth of an underwater dive. The varying colors and lengths of the rods replicate the natural harmony of swaying algae, giving the piece a touch of elegance and uniqueness. The Posidonia vase is not just an object but a fragment of the ocean, bringing with it the magic and serenity of the underwater world.
