CHAINMAIL:

Konekt's Armor Collection features furniture and lighting designs that are draped in cloaks of stainless steel chainmail. Working with an American company that has been producing chainmail since 1876, we create chainmail patterns to hug the shape and size of each design. Panels of chainmail are made by machine, and then joined by hand to create a pattern. We've established our own unique finishing process, allowing us to offer extensive finish options for clients to choose from.
