Squiggle #211
by Daniel Shapiro

Contemporary

United States

Daniel Shapiro's Squiggle #211 is hand-built using California stoneware through a combination of ceramic techniques. Elements are thrown on the wheel, or extruded, then painstakingly assembled to create a one-of-a-kind form. Once constructed, texture and 24k gold are added creating its unique appearance.

While each Squiggle Lamp is similar in concept they are all unique in form and nish. e process of building the lamps is its own creative journey, with the end result being a personality of its own.
