Chairs

We designed Ramus, our executive comfort task chair, to seamlessly integrate into both home and work environments. Most task chairs are made to be hidden when not in use. We designed Ramus to be seen. In a home setting, it looks and feels more like a lounge chair than a piece of office equipment. In the workplace, it brings an element of residential luxury that makes an office feel warm, inviting, and effortlessly stylish. This duality—of purpose, setting, and experience—is what sets Ramus apart.
